POETRY SCORING GUIDE

This question tests both the reading and the writing abilities of the student. Your mark must reflect both the accuracy of the reading as well as the fluency of the writing.

This guide should be adequate for most papers; however, if you come across a paper that is problematic, please double-check with the chair or sub-chair. It is essential to remember that this is a draft work; even high-level papers are likely to have the odd error — whether in analysis or writing. Such mistakes should be considered as part of the paper’s holistic mark, but should not necessarily result in an automatic drop in the score. However, a paper containing errors so distracting that they impede understanding should not be given a mark of more than three; a two would be more likely.

Please remember that references to the text may be explicit or implicit. References to lines solely by number should be ignored.

High-level papers are proficient in clearly articulating the theme of the poem as well as in using examples or quotations demonstrating the poet’s use of imagery to convey theme.

Mid-range papers tend to contain a weak statement of theme with adequate support, often in the form of a list of images.

Low-level papers tend to discuss theme in vague terms with at least some reference to imagery.

6 Answer

The six response meets all the criteria of a five: its superiority to the five response is a result of degree, not kind. The level of insight may be particularly convincing and/or subtle or the writing exceptionally impressive. Certainly the six response exhibits a depth of understanding and a sophisticated use of language.

5 Answer

The five response reflects a strong grasp of the topic and the poem. The references to the poem may be explicit or implicit and convincingly support the student's point of view. In both understanding and writing, the paper is proficient. The writing is well organized and reflects a strong grasp of the conventions of language.

4 Answer

The four response is competent. Understanding of the poem is accurate but rather superficial or somewhat incomplete, certainly not imaginative. References are present and suitable, but may be limited to only part of the poem. The writing conveys the student's views in an organized, straightforward fashion; errors are present but generally not distracting. Overall, the student has good control of the conventions of language.

3 Answer

The three response is barely adequate. While the student's treatment of the topic may not be wrong, it may be incomplete or so superficial as to seem inaccurate. While a central idea may not be clearly stated, it is present or implied and at least partially supported. Support may consist of long references to the poem which are not clearly connected to a central idea; alternatively, support may be very meagre and/or replaced by repetitive statements. Organization is present, but may not directly help the flow of ideas. There are lapses in the student's control over the conventions of language.

2 Answer

The two response reflects a significant misunderstanding of the poem and/or the task required by the question. The discussion may be irrelevant, seriously incomplete, or simply wrong. Errors are recurring and distracting. In some cases, the marker may sense that the student has grasped the essence of the question but has such deficiencies in language as to render the explanation seriously compromised.

1 Answer

A one response compounds the problems of the two paper. These papers are often noticeably weaker in their prose. There is a serious lack of control in the writing; in fact, the marker may wonder, at times, what the writer is trying to say. Other one papers are little more than a restatement of the topic.

0 Answer

A response with less than a complete sentence, or written in verse, or a response manifesting an achievement less than outlined in scale point 1.

NR

A blank paper with no response given.

PART B: POETRY

The Quarter Horse Colts
(page 1 in the Readings Booklet)

INSTRUCTIONS: In paragraph form and in approximately 125 to 150 words, answer question 1 in the space provided. Write in ink. The mark for your answer will be based on the appropriateness of the example(s) you use as well as the adequacy of your explanation and the quality of your written expression.

1. The poet makes extensive use of imagery. In paragraph form and with reference to the poem, discuss how imagery contributes to theme. (12 marks)

Suggestions Regarding Response:

Theme	Imagery
• There is joy in the renewal of life.	(l. 5, 7–9, 20–21)
• There is beauty in nature.	(l. 5, 6, 17)
• Youth is a time of innocence.	(l. 8–9, 10–11, 21–22)
• There is contrast between the experienced and the innocent.	(l. 10–15, 21–22)

This list is not exhaustive.

The exemplars will provide sample responses.

Marks will be awarded for content and written expression.
Refer to the Holistic Scale on pages 3 and 4 of this key.

PROSE SCORING GUIDE FOR QUESTION 2A

This guide is specific to narrative reading passages. This question tests both the reading and the writing abilities of the student. Your mark must reflect both the accuracy of the reading as well as the fluency of the writing.

This guide should be adequate for most papers; however, if you come across a paper that is problematic, please double-check with the chair or sub-chair. It is essential to remember that this is a draft work; even high-level papers are likely to have the odd error — whether in analysis or writing. Such mistakes should be considered as part of the paper’s holistic mark, but should not necessarily result in an automatic drop in the score. However, a paper containing errors so distracting that they impede understanding should not be given a mark of more than three; a two would be more likely.

Essays which are not multi-paragraph will be deducted one scale point. Please remember that references to the text may be explicit or implicit. References to paragraphs solely by number should be ignored.

High-level papers understand the elements of setting and conflict and the contribution they make to each other. The students show an understanding of both the external and internal conflict.

Mid-range papers tend to present a catalogue of the more obvious elements of the story to support their ideas. The entire story may not be discussed. Analysis may be compromised by a reliance on plot summary.

Low-level papers show no recognition of conflict but emphasize the setting, therefore the relationship is not developed.

6 Answer

The six essay meets all the criteria of a five: its superiority to the five essay is a result of degree, not kind. The level of insight may be particularly convincing and/or subtle or the writing exceptionally impressive. Certainly the six essay exhibits a depth of understanding and a sophisticated use of language.

5 Answer

The five essay reflects a strong grasp of the text. The response has a clearly stated thesis which is convincingly supported. In both understanding and writing, the paper is proficient. The essay reflects a strong grasp of the conventions of language.

4 Answer

The four essay is competent. References are present and suitable, but may be limited to only part of the text. The assertions in the four essay tend to be simplistic. There are no significant errors in reading. The writing is able to convey the writer's views in an organized, straightforward fashion; errors are present but generally not distracting. Overall, the student has good control of the conventions of language.

3 Answer

2 Answer

The two essay's response reflects a significant misunderstanding of the story and/or the task required by the question. The discussion may be irrelevant, seriously incomplete, or simply wrong. Composition errors are recurring and distracting. In some cases, the marker may sense that the student has grasped the essence of the question but has such deficiencies in language as to render the explanation seriously compromised.

1 Answer

The one essay compounds the problems of the two essay. These papers are often noticeably weaker in their prose. There is a serious lack of control in the writing; in fact, the marker may wonder, at times, what the writer is trying to say. Other one papers are little more than a restatement of the topic.

0 Answer

A response with less than a complete sentence, or written in verse, or a response manifesting an achievement less than outlined in scale point 1.

NR

A blank paper with no response given.

PART C: PROSE

Taseko

(pages 2 to 4 in the Readings Booklet)

INSTRUCTIONS: Choose one of the following two topics and write a multi-paragraph essay of approximately 300 words. Write in ink. The mark for your answer will be based on the appropriateness of the example(s) you use as well as the adequacy of your explanation and the quality of your written expression. Value: 24 marks

- 2a. In multi-paragraph essay form and with reference to the story, discuss how the setting contributes to the element of conflict. (24 marks)

Suggestions Regarding Response:

Setting

(para. 1–2) moves to the hunting ground; “fading radio”, “climbed higher”

(para. 4) “road becomes two ruts”

(para. 12–13) “Just there, beyond the firelight, was the wild...”; “...each day it grew colder...”

(para. 14) “two inches of snow”, “grey clouds were banked above the mountains”

(para. 19) boy’s growing awareness; “unfolding solitude”

(para. 8–10) “worked the higher ridges”

(para. 5–7) “icy wind”, “fingers numbed”

(para. 19–21) “snow and wind rising, spirits moaning in the timber”, “Icy branches clawed”

(para. 24) “followed them through the darkness”

Conflict

Leaving boyhood; threshold between boyhood and manhood

Sense of isolation; remoteness

They are intruders; they are worn down by lack of success.

The men are forced into a decision; increases the tension.

Highlights the boy’s internal struggle about hunting.

Hunting in an inhospitable environment

They are fighting the elements and the unknown.

PROSE SCORING GUIDE FOR QUESTION 2B

This guide is specific to narrative reading passages. This question tests both the reading and the writing abilities of the student. Your mark must reflect both the accuracy of the reading as well as the fluency of the writing.

This guide should be adequate for most papers; however, if you come across a paper that is problematic, please double-check with the chair or sub-chair. It is essential to remember that this is a draft work; even high-level papers are likely to have the odd error — whether in analysis or writing. Essays which are not multi-paragraph will be deducted one scale point. Please remember that references to the text may be explicit or implicit. References to paragraphs solely by number should be ignored.

High-level papers tend to see the boy as an everyman, and his experiences as universal. Many identify the boy’s realization that conformity, though expected is a questionable process.

Mid-range papers tend to list the boy’s experiences without showing a connection between these experiences and the protagonist’s coming of age.

Low-level papers do not understand the meaning of conformity and so fell into plot summary.

NR

A blank paper with no response given.

- 2b. In multi-paragraph essay form and with reference to the story, discuss how the boy attempts to conform to the expectations of the adult hunters. (24 marks)

Suggestions Regarding Response:

- He wishes his mother had not singled him out with her waving. (para. 1)
- The boy sets up the tent in the cold to please his father. (para. 5)
- He is first up; ready for action; anxious to contribute. (para. 7)
- The boy is proud, though leery, of his gun. (para. 9)
- The boy watches and follows his father's lead. (para. 9–11)
- Listens to the men; trusts their judgment without question. (para. 11)
- The boy sensed that his father wanted to please him, and he wanted to please his father. (para. 16)
- He begins to experience discomfort, but continues on. (para. 19–20)
- He does what is expected, and shoulders the rack, despite his unease. (para. 24)

PART D: ORIGINAL COMPOSITION

Value: 24 marks

Suggested Time: 40 minutes

INSTRUCTIONS: Using standard English, write a coherent, unified, multi-paragraph composition of approximately 300 words on the topic below. In your composition, you may apply any effective and appropriate method of development which includes any combination of exposition, persuasion, description, and narration.

Use the page headed Organization and Planning for your rough work. Write your composition in ink on the pages headed Finished Work.

3. Write a multi-paragraph composition on the topic below. In addressing the topic, you may draw support from the pictures below, the experiences of others, or from any aspect of your life: your reading, your own experiences, and so on.

Topic:

People can be influenced by their environment.

SCORING GUIDE FOR ORIGINAL COMPOSITION (PART D)

A composition may apply any effective and appropriate method of development which includes any combination of exposition, persuasion, description, and narration. No one form of writing should be considered superior to another. Compositions that are not multi-paragraph will be deducted one scale point.

6

The 6 paper meets all the criteria for a 5 paper, and it is superior and/or exceptionally engaging. In addition, the paper may draw upon any number of factors: maturity of style, effectiveness of argument, use of literary and/or rhetorical devices, depth of discussion, sophistication of wit, or quality of imagination.

5

The 5 paper is an example of proficient writing. It displays some manipulation of language to achieve a desired effect. It exhibits a strong voice and clear sense of audience. Content is thoughtful and interesting. Any errors which are present do not detract from the reader's understanding. Vocabulary and sentence structure are varied and serve the author's purpose successfully.

4

The 4 paper is clearly adequate. The prose is able to convey the writer's ideas, but without flair or strong control. Diction and syntax are usually appropriate, but lack variety. Structure, regardless of type, is predictable and relatively mechanical. The reader has a clear sense of the writer's purpose, but is not engaged by the prose. Conventions of language are usually followed, but the reader is aware of errors.

3

The 3 paper is barely adequate. The paper features underdeveloped paragraphs. Transition may be weak or absent. Support for obvious and simplistic ideas is frequently in the form of listed details. Little variety in diction and sentence structure is discernible. Although the reader may be aware of some purpose, errors impede the fluency of the paper.

2

The 2 paper shows familiarity with common spoken language in casual conversation or in the writing of one not fully conversant with the language. It sustains a subject focus with some unity of direction. Underdeveloped ideas are simply and/or awkwardly expressed, as they might be in casual conversation. The paper reflects little knowledge of the conventions of language; errors are frequent and rudimentary. The reader can perceive meaning and detect a purpose emerging.

1

The 1 paper is so compromised by its brevity and its deficiency of composition, content, diction, syntax, structure, voice and conventions of language as to render its meaning/purpose almost unintelligible.

0

A paper with less than a complete sentence, or written in verse, or a paper manifesting an achievement less than outlined in scale point 1.

NR

A blank paper with no response given.
