POETRY SCORING GUIDE

This question tests both the reading and the writing abilities of the student. Your mark must reflect both the accuracy of the reading as well as the fluency of the writing.

This guide should be adequate for most papers; however, if you come across a paper that is problematic, please double-check with the chair or sub-chair. It is essential to remember that this is a draft work; even high-level papers are likely to have the odd error — whether in analysis or writing. Such mistakes should be considered as part of the paper’s holistic mark, but should not necessarily result in an automatic drop in the score. However, a paper containing errors so distracting that they impede understanding should not be given a mark of more than three; a two would be more likely.

Please remember that references to the text may be explicit or implicit. References to lines solely by number should be ignored.

Higher-level papers tend to present the values of the speaker in an organized manner, with significant development and support. Some papers in this category started off slowly but hit their stride by the end.

Mid-level papers tend to list the values of the speaker in the order presented in the poem. Confusion between the speaker and the poet is common.

Lower-level papers tend to list values but not develop them or support them adequately. Some were off-topic, dealing with the character of the father and/or the narrator.

6 Answer

The six response is superior and may draw upon any number of factors such as effectiveness of argument and level of insight. The six response exhibits an effective writing style and a sophisticated use of language. Despite its clarity and precision, this response need not be error-free.

5 Answer

The five response reflects a strong grasp of the topic and the poem. The references to the poem may be explicit or implicit and convincingly support the student's point of view. In both understanding and writing, the paper is proficient. The writing is well organized and reflects a strong command of the conventions of language.

4 Answer

The four response is competent. Understanding of the poem is accurate but rather superficial or somewhat incomplete, certainly not imaginative. References are present and suitable, but may be limited to only part of the poem. The writing conveys the student's views in an organized, straightforward fashion; errors are present but generally not distracting. Overall, the student has good control of the conventions of language.

3 Answer

The three response is barely adequate. While the student's treatment of the topic may not be wrong, it may be incomplete or so superficial as to seem inaccurate. While a central idea may not be clearly stated, it is present or implied and at least partially supported. Support may consist of long references to the poem which are not clearly connected to a central idea; alternatively, support may be very meagre and/or replaced by repetitive statements. Organization is present, but may not directly help the flow of ideas. The student demonstrates limited control over the conventions of language.

2 Answer

The two response reflects a significant misunderstanding of the poem and/or the task required by the question. The discussion may be irrelevant, seriously incomplete, or simply wrong. Errors are recurring and distracting. In some cases, the marker may sense that the student has grasped the essence of the question but has such deficiencies in language as to render the explanation seriously compromised.

1 Answer

The one response compounds the problems of the two response. These responses are often noticeably weaker; there is a serious lack of control in the writing. The marker may wonder, at times, what the writer is trying to say.

0 Answer

The zero response reflects a complete misunderstanding of the poem and/or the task, is written in verse, is off-topic, or is a restatement of the question.

*Any zero paper must be cleared by the section leader.

NR

PART B: POETRY

Digging

(page 1 in the Readings Booklet)

INSTRUCTIONS: In paragraph form and in approximately 125 to 150 words, answer question 1 in the space provided. Write in ink. The mark for your answer will be based on the appropriateness of the example(s) you use as well as the adequacy of your explanation and the quality of your written expression.

1. In paragraph form and with reference to the poem “Digging,” discuss what the speaker values.
(12 marks)

Suggestions Regarding Response:

- the richness of his family history
- digging for truth (writer)
- tradition of hard work—love of work
- way of life for this family
- connection between generations
- the way he is able to “dig” as his father and grandfather did
- dignity in simple tasks
- dedication to family through work
- joy of physical labour and connection to land
- the skills, artistry of “diggers” and writers

This list is not exhaustive.

The exemplars will provide sample responses.

Marks will be awarded for content and written expression.
Refer to the Holistic Scale on pages 3 and 4 of this key.

PROSE SCORING GUIDE FOR QUESTION 2A

This guide is specific to narrative reading passages. This question tests both the reading and the writing abilities of the student. Your mark must reflect both the accuracy of the reading as well as the fluency of the writing.

This guide should be adequate for most papers; however, if you come across a paper that is problematic, please double-check with the chair or sub-chair. It is essential to remember that this is a draft work; even high-level papers are likely to have the odd error — whether in analysis or writing. Such mistakes should be considered as part of the paper’s holistic mark, but should not necessarily result in an automatic drop in the score. However, a paper containing errors so distracting that they impede understanding should not be given a mark of more than three; a two would be more likely.

Essays which are not multi-paragraph will be deducted one scale point. Please remember that references to the text may be explicit or implicit. References to paragraphs solely by number should be ignored.

The upper-level papers recognize that the mother realizes her own change in relationship to her daughter’s involvement. The students comment on the mother’s central conflict and its resolution.

The mid-level papers demonstrate an understanding of the mother’s change, but may not address the mother’s growth in relationship to this change.

The low-level papers may demonstrate poor writing skills or a significant misreading of the mother’s relationship with the daughter.

Essays that are not multi-paragraph, (three or more paragraphs), or have fewer than 200 words will be deducted one scale point.

6 Answer

The six essay is superior and may draw upon any number of factors: depth of discussion, effectiveness of argument, or level of insight. This essay exhibits an effective writing style and a sophisticated use of language. Despite its clarity and precision, this essay need not be error-free.

5 Answer

The five essay reflects a strong grasp of the text. The response has a clearly stated thesis which is convincingly supported. In both understanding and writing, the essay is proficient. The essay reflects a strong command of the conventions of language.

4 Answer

The four essay is competent. References are present and suitable, but may be limited to only part of the text. The assertions in the four essay tend to be simplistic. There are no significant errors in reading. The writing is able to convey the writer's views in an organized, straightforward fashion; errors are present but generally not distracting. Overall, the student has good control of the conventions of language.

3 Answer

The three essay is barely adequate. While the student's treatment of the topic may not be wrong, it may be incomplete or so superficial as to seem inaccurate. While a central idea may not be clearly stated, it is present or implied and at least partially supported. Support may consist of long references to the prose which are not clearly connected to a central idea; alternatively, support may be very meagre and/or replaced by repetitive statements. Organization is present, but may not directly help the flow of ideas. The student demonstrates limited control over the conventions of language.

2 Answer

The two essay reflects a significant misunderstanding of the prose and/or the task required by the question. The discussion may be irrelevant, seriously incomplete, or simply wrong. Composition errors are recurring and distracting. In some cases, the marker may sense that the student has grasped the essence of the question but has such deficiencies in language as to render the explanation seriously compromised.

1 Answer

The one essay compounds the problems of the two essay. These essays are often noticeably weaker; there is a serious lack of control in the writing. The marker may wonder, at times, what the writer is trying to say.

0 Answer

The zero essay reflects a complete misunderstanding of the story and/or the task, is written in verse, is off-topic, or is a restatement of the question.

*Any zero paper must be cleared by the section leader.

PART C: PROSE

Playing to Win

(pages 2 to 4 in the Readings Booklet)

INSTRUCTIONS: Choose one of the following two topics and write a multi-paragraph essay of approximately 300 words. Write in ink. The mark for your answer will be based on the appropriateness of the example(s) you use as well as the adequacy of your explanation and the quality of your written expression. Value: 24 marks

- 2a. In multi-paragraph essay form and with reference to “Playing to Win”, discuss how the experience of the daughter has influenced her mother. (24 marks)

Suggestions Regarding Response:

- she becomes more aware of her daughter’s depth and variety of qualities (para. 2, 3, 9, 17, 18)
- she now recognizes the value of sports: team work, encouragement, competition, confidence (para. 4, 5, 9, 17, 18)
- she gains a new sense of confidence (para. 4, 13, 14)
- she is now more intense in her own pursuits (para. 4, 13, 14)
- she becomes more aware of the nature of the father/daughter relationship (para. 5 and 6)
- she becomes aware of societal expectations (para. 7)
- she now sees that women can and should be powerful rather than passive (para. 7, 13, 17, 18)
- she now realizes what she missed in her childhood (para. 9)

- 2b. In multi-paragraph essay form and with reference to “Playing to Win,” discuss how stereotypes influence the family members. (24 marks)

Suggestions Regarding Response:

- The speaker initially believes that “pretty” girls can’t or won’t be serious athletes. (para. 1–3)
- The speaker is surprised when Ann overcomes the stereotypical “Lady Astor” image and letters in four sports. (para. 1–3)
- Ann’s father becomes more “intense” when he realizes she is a “serious” competitor. (para. 5–6)
- Although young girls are encouraged to “be good, be quiet, be still,” Ann is “intense.” (para. 7)
- The speaker was influenced by stereotypes as a young girl which affected her self-confidence. (para. 9)
- The speaker is worried that Ann might give up her own ambitions to become the stereotypical “trophy” wife—Ann proves her wrong. (para. 10–12)
- Ann herself perpetuates the stereotype that athletes can’t be involved in other pursuits. (para. 13)
- Although she has drive and intensity, Ann and her teammates still fit the stereotype of the “cute” pretty girl athlete. (para. 16)
- Through intensity and determination, Ann is able to overcome the stereotype of the weak and powerless young woman. (para. 17–18)

PART D: ORIGINAL COMPOSITION

Value: 24 marks

Suggested Time: 40 minutes

INSTRUCTIONS: Using standard English, write a coherent, unified, multi-paragraph composition of approximately 300 words on the topic below. In your composition, you may apply any effective and appropriate method of development which includes any combination of exposition, persuasion, description, and narration.

Use the page headed Organization and Planning for your rough work. Write your composition in ink on the pages headed Finished Work.

3. Write a multi-paragraph composition on the topic below. In addressing the topic, you may draw support from the experiences of others or from any aspect of your life, for example, your reading and your experiences.

Topic:

We learn the most from those closest to us.

SCORING GUIDE FOR ORIGINAL COMPOSITION (PART D)

A composition may apply any effective and appropriate method of development which includes any combination of exposition, persuasion, description, and narration. No one form of writing should be considered superior to another. Compositions that are not multi-paragraph, (three or more paragraphs), or have fewer than 200 words will be deducted one scale point.

6

The six paper is superior and may draw upon any number of factors: maturity of style, depth of discussion, effectiveness of argument, use of literary and/or rhetorical devices, sophistication of wit, or quality of imagination. This essay exhibits an effective writing style and a sophisticated use of language. Despite its clarity and precision, this paper need not be error-free.

5

The five paper is an example of proficient writing. It displays some manipulation of language to achieve a desired effect. It exhibits a strong voice and clear sense of audience. Content is thoughtful and interesting. Errors do not detract from the marker's understanding. Vocabulary and sentence structure are varied and serve the writer's purpose successfully.

4

The four paper is clearly adequate. The prose is able to convey the writer's ideas, but without flair or strong control. Diction and syntax are usually appropriate, but lack variety. Structure, regardless of type, is predictable and relatively mechanical. The marker has a clear sense of the writer's purpose, but is not engaged by the prose. Conventions of language are usually followed, but the marker is aware of errors.

3

The three paper is barely adequate. The paper may feature underdeveloped paragraphs. Transition[s] may be weak or absent. Support for obvious and simplistic ideas is frequently in the form of listed details. Little variety in diction and sentence structure is discernible. Although the marker may be aware of some purpose, errors impede the fluency of the paper.

2

The two paper shows underdeveloped ideas that are simply and/or awkwardly expressed, as they might be in casual conversation. The paper reflects little knowledge of the conventions of language. Even though the marker can perceive meaning, the errors are frequent and rudimentary.

1

The one paper is so compromised by its deficiency of composition, content, diction, syntax, structure, voice and conventions of language as to render its meaning/purpose almost unintelligible.

0

The zero paper manifests an achievement less than outlined in scale-point one, is written in verse, is off-topic, or is a restatement of the topic.

*Any zero paper must be cleared by the section leader.

NR

A blank paper with no response given.
